PRINTABLE CHECKLIST

A family communication plan for when phones are down

A family communication plan is one sheet of paper that says who you contact, how, and where you meet if phones stop working. Write down key numbers, pick a contact outside your area, agree two meeting places and set check-in times. It takes about half an hour and covers the gap when the mobile network is down.

- [ ] Key phone numbers written on paper
- [ ] A copy for every bag, wallet and the kit box
- [ ] Out-of-area contact chosen and told
- [ ] Meeting place near home agreed
- [ ] Second meeting place agreed
- [ ] Who collects the children decided
- [ ] Hourly check-in time agreed
- [ ] Note-leaving spot agreed
- [ ] Plan dated and reviewed every six months