PRINTABLE CHECKLIST

Rota power cuts explained: load blocks and three-hour cuts

Rota power cuts are planned cuts that would be shared out between areas in turn during a national energy shortage. Each cut would last about three hours and apply to homes with a particular load block letter. You can find your letter at powercut105.com or on some electricity bills. They are an emergency measure and none is currently planned.

- [ ] Look up your load block letter and write it down
- [ ] Save 105 in your phone
- [ ] Keep a lantern or torch in each main room
- [ ] Keep a power bank charged
- [ ] Join the Priority Services Register if you qualify
- [ ] Ask your clinician about backup for medical equipment
- [ ] Keep a flask for hot drinks
